The white 2021 Las Blancas was produced with a blend of Maris ancho, Macabeo, Malvasia, Merseguera and Moscatel and has a white-fruit profile that is attractive, clean and straightforward, with moderate ripeness and 13% alcohol, keeping a low pH and good acidity. It's fresh and tasty, easy to drink. It matured in well-seasoned 500-liter oak barrels for six months, but the oak is not a player in the aromas or flavors. 9,000 bottles produced. It was bottled in March 2022.
